Democratic Committee Meeting.

A meeting of the City Democratic Committee was held last night at the Hotel Fleischmann to prepare the ticket and make arrangements for the primary to be held next Monday at which candidates for Mayor and members of the City Council will be chosen. There were present Messrs. Chas. Bendheim, chairman; R. T. Cook, secretary, and Jas. Wilkins, G. E. Pice, G. L. Simpson, O. F. Carter and Milton Fairfax. Among the candidates present were: Messrs. G. L. Simpson and F. J. Paff, for Mayor; N. P. T. Burke, T. W. Clark and S. P. Fisher for Aldermen, and C. B. Marshall, James Roche, J. F. Birrell and Hubert Snowden for Council. Among the others present were Messrs. S. G. Brent, James Lawler, A. D. Brockett, J. A. Marshall, E. E. Lawler and others.

A list of those whose names had been presented as candidates was then read and Mr. Cook said that several persons had called his attention to the fact that the names of republicans had been handed in to go on the democratic ticket. It was for the committee to say what action should be taken.

Mr. Bendheim said he had no personal knowledge that the names of republicans were on the ticket but that matter was for the committee to determine.

Mr. Carter said Mr. Hulish was a known republican; Mr. Hulish was a personal friend of his and a good citizen, but he was a republican.

Some doubt was also expressed as to Mr. W. H. McCuen's political complexion.

The report of the proceedings of the meeting of the Progressive Association held on Tuesday night and published in the Gazette was then read in which Mr. Hulish stated that he was a republican in national affairs, but that in municipal and State elections he had always favored the men who in his estimation were suitable for the offices, irrespective of party lines.

Mr. Carter wanted to be put on record as being opposed to any republican being a candidate for office in a democratic primary; if republicans wished to run in general elections that was their privilege, but they should not be on democratic tickets. He meant nothing personal; the gentleman named was a good man, but an out and out republican.

Mr. Simpson said the democratic party was to hold a democratic primary to select a ticket to be voted for at the general election; the party had heretofore been liberal and had invited all, including republicans, who would support the nominees to participate, but the committee could not allow the names of republicans to be placed upon the democratic ticket.

Mr. Cook and others said if the names of republicans were to be placed on the ticket the primary might just as well be dispensed with and all go into a general election.

A motion was made to remove the name of Mr. Hulish from the ticket.

Mr. Snowden said that Mr. Hulish should not be singled out; he had heard that others whose names had been handed in were also republicans, it must be disagreeable to these gentlemen to be discussed in this manner, but as they were republicans they had no place on a democratic ticket; he felt sure that no democrat present would attempt to participate in a republican primary or have his name placed on a republican ticket; he thought the motion if carried should be general.

Several members of the committee said that such was their intention and a resolution was adopted that only the names of known democrats should be placed on the ticket and that should any doubts arise as to the politics of any of the candidates their standing be ascertained by the secretary.

The secretary said he had called on Mr. Duncan, secretary of the electoral board that evening to see if the judges of election had been appointed and was informed that they had not yet been. After some discussion it was agreed that the two candidates for Mayor and the committee should appoint the judges and clerks for the primary, provided the State law did not provide otherwise.

The matter of assessments then came up and it was stated that the cost of the primary would be about one hundred dollars. It was agreed that each candidate for Council be assessed one dollar, payable before noon on Saturday and that the remainder of the expenses of the primary be paid by the candidates for Mayor.

The committee adjourned to meet at the same place on Saturday night next at 8 o'clock.

The following is the ticket arranged at the meeting:

First ward—For Aldermen, J. M. Hill and N. P. T. Burke; for Council, H. R. Burke, E. S. Leadbeater, H. F. Wheat, Peter Aitchison, Hubert Snowden, C. P. Elliott, C. N. Moore, T. L. Rishell and A. Sidney Mankin.

Second ward—For Aldermen, Theophilus Ballenger, W. W. Ballenger, E. E. Lawler and F. F. Marbury; for Council, Louis Brill, Henry Baader, J. Y. Williams, Henry Strauss, J. F. Birrell, and George Finch.

Third ward—For Aldermen, J. R. N. Curtin and S. P. Fisher; for Councilmen, W. H. Hellmuth, T. B. Cochran, James Patterson, James Roche, W. W. Sherwood and J. T. Harrison.

Fourth ward—For Aldermen, J. T. Sweeney, T. W. Clark and W. B. H. Sweeney; for Councilmen, Albert Bryan, F. C. Spinks, Jr., C. B. Marshall, Jas. McCuen and L. E. Uhler.

The candidates for Council are requested to leave the amount of their assessment at the drug store of Mr. Edgar Warfield, Jr., on King street.

[It is understood that the democratic committee in conjunction with the candidates for Mayor have the right to appoint the judges and clerks of election and will do so should the electoral board not make the appointments in time for the primary on Monday. It is more than likely, however, that the electoral board will appoint these officers on Friday or Saturday.]

Another fair and pleasant day.

ASSAULT AND ROBBERY.

Captain and Mate of Schooner Annie and Ellen Murderously Assaulted by a Negro who Steals about $150.—Culprit Captured by Police.

About one o'clock this morning Special Officer Gensberger heard cries of murder emanating from Union street, between King and Cameron, and blew a distress whistle which was immediately answered by Officers Henderson and Roberts. The officers repaired to the locality from which the cries had been heard and found that Captain W. L. Brown, of the schooner Annie and Ellen, and Mate H. M. Griffith had been murderously assaulted by a negro named Edward Jenkins and that the latter had stolen about $150 belonging to Captain Brown.

The officers picked up the injured men, placed them in the cabin, and later Dr. Gorman and Lieutenant Smith appeared. The two men had been terribly wounded on their heads, and blood was spattered in several places on the cabin floor. The doctor went to work immediately and, assisted by the lieutenant, dressed the wounds of the two men. There were several ugly cuts on the heads of each and blood ran over their faces and shoulders, making a ghastly picture. When the two men became more composed they made those around them understand that they had been murderously attacked by a negro named Edward Jenkins, about 20 years of age, weighing about 150 pounds and of a decidedly black hue.

Captain Brown stated that Jenkins came here on the vessel from Norfolk, that his department did not suit him and that there had been more or less trouble with him. On Tuesday night he attempted to set fire to the vessel and was given the small sum of money due him yesterday morning and discharged. About one o'clock this morning Jenkins (whom the captain did not recognize at the time) came on the wharf and asked questions concerning a vessel he pretended he was endeavoring to find. The captain told him he knew of no such vessel, but the negro became aggressive and went aboard, saying there was a pair of shoes on the vessel which belonged to him. Captain Brown led him off the boat, and accompanied him a short distance on the wharf. Jenkins then asked to be directed to some point south of where the schooner lies. He pretended that he was about to leave the wharf, but after the captain went aboard the negro returned, Captain Brown, not desiring to go to sleep while the darkey was prowling around the wharf, again left the vessel and walked almost to Messrs. H. K. Field & Co's south door where he encountered Jenkins and told him to leave the premises, as he wanted to retire. He pretended he would do so if the captain would pilot him off the wharf. He was told which direction to take. Jenkins, instead of leaving, said he wanted a match and followed Captain Brown, remarking at the same time that he would have the shoes he averred were on the vessel. He had managed to pick up an iron screw bolt about 18 inches long and 1 inch thick without attracting the captain's attention, and being behind his intended victim he dealt him a terrible blow on the head, knocking him down. He struck him two or three times while he was on the ground, each time on the head. Captain Brown repeatedly cried "murder," which awoke Mate Griffith. The latter emerged from the cabin and was about to step ashore when Jenkins used the bolt with terrible effect upon his head. The mate fell back on the deck with blood flowing from his wounds and insensible. Jenkins then went to the cabin and took a roll of money amounting to about $150 from the captain's bunk and made his escape.

Jenkins lurked about the city until this morning when he purchased a pair of shoes and some other articles and was on the corner of Cameron and Fayette streets when acting Chief Smith and Officers Lyles and Mayhugh took him in charge. He acknowledged having assaulted the captain and mate and said he took the money. He had $136.15 in his pocket when arrested. He was brought before Justice Caton later when he gave a rambling account of the affair in an almost inaudible tone and gazed at the floor most of the time. He said he supposed Captain Brown and Mate Griffith were about to attack him; that the captain had picked up a scantling or piece of shingle and that he (Jenkins) acted in self-defense. He also asserted that $5 was due him and that the captain had refused to pay him. Jenkins denied having taken the money from the captain's pocket, his object being to forcibly take the $5 alleged to be due him. The darkey was held for a further hearing.

The iron bolt which Jenkins had wielded with such terrible effect was found in the schooner's cabin, and was exhibited in court this morning. Hair and blood could be traced on it, especially in the threads. Jenkins, however, denied that he struck his victims with it, and said he used a stick with a piece of iron upon it. Later he acknowledged he used the bolt on the men. Jenkins said he was from Philadelphia and was preparing to leave for that city when arrested.

Captain Brown and Mate Griffith were lying in their bunks this morning in a sad condition. Their heads were fearfully lacerated and blood was spattered over their faces and clothes. The captain, who is a young and vigorous man, did not seem to be suffering as greatly as the mate, who is much older. The latter's injuries are apparently more serious. He had been struck several heavy blows on the top of the head, and the scalp, blood and hair were matted together in a sickening mass. He seems to be suffering considerably, and whether he will be able to withstand the shock and loss of blood, remains to be seen. Later the mate was removed to the Alexandria Hospital. It is said that his skull is fractured. Capt. Brown is still aboard the vessel.

Police Court.

[Justice H. B. Caton presiding.] The following cases were disposed of this morning:

Edward Jenkins, colored, arrested by acting Chief Smith and Officers Lyles and Mayhugh for murderously assault and robbery, was held.

Hugh Kelly, arrested by Officer Ferguson for vagrancy, was fined $2.50.

A white man, arrested by Officer Lyles for drunkenness, was sent to jail for 10 days.

A man, arrested by Officer Mayhugh for being drunk on the street, was dismissed with an admonition.

Property Sales.

Capt. R. F. Knox sold at auction today for J. K. M. Norton, commissioner of sale, a tract of land in Fairfax county on the south side of the "Middle turnpike" road about opposite the Hampton Stock Farm, it being the property conveyed to W. Z. Cazenove by Ellen M. Whiting and containing 55 acres to Miss Margaret V. Smith for $38 per acre.

A lot of ground south of Church street with 29 feet frontage on the west side of Lee street and extending into the Potomac river to M. B. Harlow for $25.

A lot of ground 40x96 feet on the south side of Princess street, between St. Asaph and Pitt, to Robert Elliott for $65.

A lot of ground of an irregular shape on the north side of Church street bounded as follows: Twenty-five feet on Fairfax, 105 feet on Lee and 247 feet on Church street, to M. B. Harlow for $25; also a lot of ground 19x83 feet situated on south side of Princess street 20 feet east of Royal street, to Robert Elliott for $30.

The many friends of Mr. Edgar S. Fleming will be glad to learn that the operation on one of his eyes for cataract in Washington yesterday was successful. The other eye will receive similar treatment in a few days.

Miss Roberta L. Stuart is visiting at Cedar Grove, King George county.

Capt. Robert E. Lee, the youngest son of General Lee, is at work on a book entitled "Recollections and Letters of General Lee."

The Southern Railway Agents' Association completed its annual meeting at Memphis, Tenn., yesterday and adjourned after electing officers. Mr. J. T. Preston, of this city, was appointed on the executive committee.

Mr. and Mrs. Jefferson Aitchison have returned from their bridal tour.

Accident to a Train.

The engine on the train which left this city over the Southern Railway for Atlanta at 7:30 last night broke a side rod and was derailed at Rockfish. It is said that the train at the time of the accident was going at the rate of from fifteen to twenty miles an hour and had just passed over a high bridge. Two sleepers were derailed by the accident, and a colored man named Arthur Jordan, who was on top of one of the cars was killed. The man was from Charlotte, N. C. The wreck blocked traffic on the system for several hours.

Inquiring for Her Father.

A man named Hugh Kelly was arrested yesterday for vagrancy. He was fined $2.50 this morning, and sent to jail. Immediately after Kelly was sentenced Justice Caton in opening his mail found a letter from Miss Annie Kelly of Philadelphia, making inquiries for her father, Hugh Kelly, whom she had not seen for five years. She had heard that he was working at one of the glass factories in this city. Justice Caton will send a letter to the young woman giving the information she seeks.

Modern Woodmen.

The meeting last night of the Modern Woodmen of this city was interesting and enjoyable throughout. Captain Plummer with seventeen members of the Washington degree team in uniform were in attendance and they conferred degrees upon two candidates in an impressive manner. A number of visitors from other cities were present, including officials of the order. After the meeting the members and their guests repaired to Mr. H. Bloch's saloon where seasonable refreshments were served.

The Last Scenes.

The curtain is about to drop upon the fishing season of the present year. There was virtually nothing doing at Fish-town this morning. All the receipts could have been transported in a row boat. Both shad and herring were unchanged in prices. Shad were never so scarce hereabouts as they have been this year. It is said that the entire catch at one of the large shores this spring was not as large as one haul of the seine in by-gone years.

Orders for Rolling Stock.

As has previously been stated, contracts have been made by the Southern Railway for more new equipment. Ten more of the Pacific type of locomotives have been ordered, together with twenty heavy switch engines, also for twenty large freight engines. A number of passenger coaches and dining cars have also been ordered. President Spencer recently said that $25,000,000 would be spent within two years on the system.

Emerson Pump Works.

The partly burned building adjoining the Emerson Pump Works on the south is being rebuilt by Mr. DeW. Aitchison. It will be used by the Emerson Pump Company who have recently received about ten thousand dollars' worth of new machinery for their plant. This will be the last of the houses on that square burned in May, 1897, to be rebuilt.

May Ball.

James W. Jackson Council, Jr., O. U. A. M., tonight at Schuler's Hall, will give a grand May ball. Dancing begins at 8 p. m. and lasts until 2 a. m. Excellent music will be furnished and a pleasant evening is promised all who attend.
